All tax preparers must have a PTIN. Additionally, some preparers must pass a competency examination and take continuing education courses annually. These individuals become Registered Tax Return Preparers.

Attorneys, certified public accountants, enrolled agents, enrolled retirement plan agents, enrolled actuaries, “supervised preparers,” and individuals who do not prepare Form 1040 series tax returns are exempt from competency testing and continuing education requirements.

Who is a Supervised Preparer?

Supervised preparers are individuals who do not sign, and are not required to sign, tax returns as a paid return preparer but are:

- Employed by attorney or CPA firms; OR
- Employed by other recognized firms that are at least 80 percent owned by attorneys, CPAs, or enrolled agents;

AND

- Who are supervised by an attorney, certified public accountant, enrolled agent, enrolled retirement plan agent, or enrolled actuary who signs the returns prepared by the supervised preparer as the paid tax return preparer.

When applying for or renewing a PTIN, supervised preparers must provide the PTIN of their supervisor. The supervisor’s PTIN must be a valid and active PTIN.

Supervised preparers may NOT:

- Sign any tax return they prepare or assist in preparing;
- Represent taxpayers before the IRS in any capacity; or
- Identify themselves as a registered tax return preparer or a Circular 230 practitioner.

Who is a non-Form 1040 series Preparer?

Non-Form 1040 series preparers are individuals who do not prepare, or assist in the preparation of, any Form 1040 series tax return or claim for refund, except a Form 1040-PR or Form 1040-SS, for compensation.

When applying for or renewing a PTIN, non-Form 1040 series preparers must certify that they do not prepare, or assist in the preparation of, any Form 1040 series tax return or claim for refund, except a Form 1040-PR or Form 1040-SS, for compensation.

Non-Form 1040 series preparers may:

- Sign any tax return they prepare or assist in preparing; or
- Represent taxpayers before revenue agents, customer service representatives, or similar officers and employees of the IRS (including the Taxpayer Advocate Service) during an examination if the individual signed the tax return or claim for refund for the taxable year under examination.

Non-Form 1040 series preparers may NOT:

- Prepare or assist in preparing any Form 1040 series tax return or claim for refund, except a Form 1040-PR or Form 1040-SS, for compensation; or
- Identify themselves as a registered tax return preparer or a Circular 230 practitioner.

In the Matter of Ramaniklal Premchand Shah
CPA Certificate #09193

A hearing for this matter came before Administrative Law Judge Richard C. Luis on April 20, 2011. On May 18, 2011, the Administrative Law Judge issued Findings of Fact, Conclusions and Recommendation ("Report") in this matter. A copy of the Report is on file in the Board office.

Statement of the Issues:

The issues in this contested case proceeding were whether the Board should discipline Respondent because:

1. Respondent failed to timely comply with the Board's Continuing Professional Education (CPE) requirements, pursuant to Minn. Stat. §326A.04 (2010), and Minn. R. 1105-3000 and 1105.3100 (2009).
2. Respondent failed to pay the CPE noncompliance fee to the Board until January 2011, pursuant to Minn. Stat. §326A.08, subd. 7 (2010), and Minn. R. 1105.3000 (2009).

On August 12, 2011, the matter was heard, considered and decided by the full Board of Accountancy. The Board made the following Findings of Fact, Conclusions of Law and Order:

Findings of Fact

Findings of Fact 1 through 18 of the Report are adopted and incorporated herein.

1. The Respondent is and has been for many years a certified public accountant. The Respondent has also been a Member of the Board of Accountancy for many years. From 2004 to 2007, the Respondent was on the Board's Executive Committee. He was on the CPE Committee from 2004 through 2008 and served as chair of the CPE Committee since 2008. The Respondent has also served on the CPE Committee of the National Association of State Boards of Accountancy (NASBA) since 2008.
2. Under the Board's rules, licensed accountants must complete 120 hours of CPE on a rolling basis every three years, earning a minimum of 20 hours in each year. At least eight of the 120 hours must be in accounting ethics or business ethics. The rules allow credit for seminars and lectures approved by NASBA and for seminars and lectures that are not approved by NASBA, but at least 72 of the 120 hours must be from courses approved by NASBA. Programs of self-study (as opposed to seminar or lecture programs) are allowed only if the sponsors are members of NASBA's Quality Assurance Service (QAS) Program.
3. There are different documentation rules for approved and unapproved courses. For approved courses, the licensee must have a certificate of attendance that contains the registry number of the program sponsor. For courses that are not approved, the licensee must have (1) a certificate of attendance containing the name and contact information of the sponsor, the title and description of the content of the program, the date of the program, the location of the program, and the number of CPE hours for which the licensee attended; (2) a copy of the detailed timed agenda for the program; (3) a biography of the program developer and program presenter; and (4) a statement by the licensee describing how the program contributed to the licensee's pro-essional knowledge and competence.

4. Licensed accountants must provide evidence of compliance with CPE requirements when they apply for renewal of their certificates each year.
5. The rules containing these requirements were changed twice between 2004 and 2007. The disallowance of unapproved self-study courses became effective on June 30, 2007. To address widespread misunderstanding of the rules reflected in a 2007 CPE audit, Board staff sent out a letter to all licensed accountants clarifying the rule requirements.
6. On May 29, 2009, the Board advised the Respondent that he had been selected to participate in the annual CPE audit for the three years ending June 30, 2006, 2007 and 2008. Board staff requested that he submit copies of certificates of completion to substantiate the CPE hours reported on his 2009 certificate renewal form.
7. On June 29, 2009, the Respondent filed a CPE compliance form for the three years ended June 30, 2008. The Respondent indicated that he had completed 176 hours of CPE over that period of time. He also submitted materials to support his claimed CPE hours.
8. Board staff audited the materials and made a variety of adjustments to the claimed hours. Some self-study courses were disallowed because the sponsors were not members of the NASBA QAS program; in addition, some claimed hours for attendance at NASBA annual meetings were disallowed. Some of the approved courses taught by the Respondent were missing documentation of credit by the program sponsor. Finally, none of the claimed courses covered accounting or business ethics.
9. On July 13, 2009, Board staff attempted to send an email to the Respondent advising him of the audit results and asking him to submit additional documentation or to call with any questions. The Respondent either did not receive the email or he overlooked it.
10. On October 1, 2009, the Board's executive director wrote to the Respondent asking him to submit additional documentation and/or late fees by October 19, 2009. The letter also advised the Respondent that failure to provide all supporting documentation by that date might result in referral to the Board's disciplinary committee.
11. The Respondent met with Board staff on October 19, 2009 about the audit results. He was upset that, given the total number of hours of CPE he had taken, the Board staff was questioning his compliance with the requirements. The staff member also became upset and felt that the Respondent was improperly pressuring her to accept the credits without requiring further documentation.
12. The Respondent thereafter requested that the CPE Committee accept the credits that lacked supporting documentation; the Committee denied this request on December 9, 2009.
13. On December 1 and December 16, 2009, the Respondent submitted additional materials to support his CPE filing. The final result of the audit was that the Respondent lacked four approved ethics hours for fiscal year 2008.
14. The Respondent was allowed to satisfy this deficiency by "carrying back" four CPE ethics hours earned in May 2010.

15. Because the Respondent was out of compliance from July 2008 to May 2010, he was required to pay a late processing fee calculated as $50 for the first month and $25 per month thereafter until compliance was achieved. In the Respondent's case, the late processing fee amounted to $575.
16. The Respondent disputed the fee and continued to assert that he had complied with the CPE requirements.
17. On September 15, 2010, the Board of Accountancy issued the Notice and Order for Hearing in this matter.
18. On January 14, 2011, the Respondent paid the $575 fee under protest when he filed to renew his CPA certificate. The Respondent believed it was unfair to require payment of a disputed fee in order to renew his CPA certificate.

Conclusions of Law

Conclusions 1 through 10 of the Report are adopted and incorporated herein.

1. The Administrative Law Judge and the Board of Accountancy have jurisdiction in this matter pursuant to Minn. Stat. §§14.50, 214.10 and 326A.08.
2. The Board has given proper notice in this matter and has fulfilled all procedural requirements.
3. Licensed accountants are required to participate in a program of learning designed to maintain professional competency, and the program must comply with rules adopted by the Board.
4. A program of CPE satisfies the Board's requirements if it meets the requirements of Minn. R. 1105.3100 and 1105.3200.
5. The failure to comply with a statute or rule the Board is empowered to enforce is a basis for disciplinary action.
6. A licensee who is not in compliance with CPE requirements on June 30 of each year is assessed a late processing fee for each month of noncompliance.
7. The Board may impose a civil penalty upon a person or firm that violates a statute or rule the Board is empowered to enforce.
8. The Respondent failed to timely comply with CPE requirements for fiscal year 2008, and he failed to pay the required late processing fee until January 2011.
9. The Respondent is subject to discipline for failing to comply with Minn. Stat. §§326A.04, subd. 4 and 326A.08, subds. 5(a)(1) and 7(a), and Minn. R. 1105.3000G.
10. The imposition of disciplinary action against the Respondent is in the public interest within the meaning of Minn. Stat. §326A.08, subd. 5.

New Conclusions

11. The Board adopts the Memorandum of Administrative Law Judge Richard C. Luis.
12. The discipline ordered herein is warranted and in the public interest for the reasons stated in the Memorandum of Administrative Law Judge Richard C. Luis.

Order

1. Respondent's certified public accountant certificate is CENSURED and REPRIMANDED.

2. Respondent shall pay to the Board a CIVIL PENALTY of $500 and a $575 CPE non-compliance fee. The Board acknowledges that Respondent has already paid the $575 CEPE non-compliance fee.

In the Matter of Ronak R. Shah, CPA Certificate and License #17738

This matter came on for hearing before Administrative Law Judge Richard C. Luis on May 3, 2011. On June 29, 2011, the Administrative Law Judge issued his Findings of Fact, Conclusions and Recommendation ("Report") in this matter. A copy of the Report is on file in the Board office.

Statement of the Issue:

The issue in this contested case proceeding is whether it is appropriate to discipline Respondent, pursuant to Minn. Stat. §326A.08, subd. 5(a)(2) and (10) (2010) and Minn. R. 1105.5600(D) (2009), for "fiscal dishonesty of any kind," on the grounds that Respondent

- (1) made two unauthorized withdrawals totaling $7,000 from a bank account belonging to the Minnesota Society of Certificate Public Accountants Political Action Committee ("MnCPA-PAC" and "the PAC"); and
- (2) failed to repay the money to the PAC for more than two months after the withdrawals.

On September 12, 2011, the matter was heard, considered and decided by the full Board of Accountancy. The Board made the following Findings of Fact, Conclusions of Law and Order:

Findings of Fact

The Board adopts and incorporates herein all of the Findings of Fact in the Report.

1. On June 14, 1996, the Board issued Shah CPA certificate number 17738. Respondent currently holds an active CPA license from the Board.
2. In 2009, Shah was a member of the Minnesota Society of Certified Public Accountants Political Action Committee (MnCPA-PAC and PAC). Shah was the Chairman of the PAC and was an authorized signatory on a checking account owned by the PAC. Shah owed fiduciary duties to the PAC.
3. On September 26, 2009, Shah withdrew $1,000 from the PAC's account and deposited the funds to his personal account. The withdrawal was not authorized by the PAC.
4. On September 30, 2009, Shah withdrew an additional $6,000 from the PAC's account and deposited the funds to his personal account. The withdrawal was not authorized by the PAC.
5. The PAC learned of the missing $7,000 in early October 2009 and attempted to recover the money from Shah.
6. During the week of October 12, 2009, Shah admitted that he had withdrawn the money from the PAC's account. The PAC demanded that Shah return the money, and on at least two occasions, he promised to do so.
7. At some point in October 2009, Shah decided not to return immediately to the PAC the $7,000 he had withdrawn from its account.
8. On or about November 6, 2009, the PAC served Shah with a Complaint initiating a civil lawsuit against him. The Complaint alleges breach of fiduciary duty, civil theft, and conversion. The PAC did not file the suit in district court.
9. On or about December 2, 2009, Shah served the PAC with his Answer to its Complaint. The Answer admits the allegations in the Complaint setting out the "history of the event." It further admits the Complaint's allegations of conversion and breach of fiduciary duty.
10. Shortly after Shah served the PAC with his Answer, the PAC threatened to file the lawsuit against Shah in court. In response, on December 7, 2009, Shah wrote a check to the PAC for the $7,000 he had withdrawn.
11. The PAC spent approximately $5,900 on legal fees to collect the funds taken by Shah.
12. On or about September 14, 2010, the Committee served Shah with its Notice and Order for Hearing and Prehearing Conference, initiating this disciplinary proceeding.
13. On or about December 7, 2010, the Committee served Shah with Requests for Admissions in the instant case by mailing them to his business address. Among the Requests for Admissions were requests that Shah admit that he "violated his fiduciary duty to MnCPA-PAC" and that his "conduct constitutes grounds justifying the Board's taking disciplinary action against (his) Certificate.
14. Shah did not respond to the Requests for Admissions

- within ten days, and still has not responded to them.
15. At no point in this proceeding has Shah provided a reason why he did not respond to the Requests for Admissions.
16. In correspondence to the PAC and the Committee, Shah asserted that he withdrew the $7,000 from the PAC's account inadvertently. Shah maintained this position in testimony at the May 3 Hearing.

As noted in the Memorandum included within the Report, Respondent disclosed new information at the May 3 hearing that he had not previously provided to the Committee or the Board. Among these new disclosures were the following representations by Respondent:

- a. Respondent testified at the hearing that before making the withdrawals in question, he identified himself to the Wells Fargo teller by running a debit card through the bank's card reader. Respondent initially testified at the hearing that when he made the withdrawals, he believed this card was connected to only three accounts: his own personal checking account, personal savings account, and business account. Later in his testimony, he admitted that this initial statement was not true, and that he had recognized that the card was connected to at least one other bank account - his brother's.
- b. Respondent testified at the hearing that while making one or both of the withdrawals at issue, he never attempted to communicate with the Wells Fargo teller to convey which account Respondent intended to withdraw money from. Respondent further testified that the teller, in one or both instances, also did not attempt to communicate with Respondent in order to identify which account Respondent intended to withdraw money from.
- c. Respondent testified at the hearing that he had not seen the withdrawal slips between the time the tellers in question filled them out and the time he left the bank.

Respondent did not disclose any of this information in his February 2010 written submission to the Committee or his April 2010 in-person meeting with the Committee.

Any Finding of Fact more properly termed a Conclusion of Law is adopted as such.

Conclusions of Law

The Board adopts and incorporates herein all of the Conclusions of Law in the Report.

1. The Administrative Law Judge and the Board have jurisdiction in this proceeding pursuant to Minn. Stat. §§ 14.50, 214.10, 214.103 and 326A.01-.14 (2010).
2. The Committee gave proper notice of the violations to Shah and fulfilled all procedural requirements.
3. Because he failed to (1) respond to the Committee's Requests for Admissions within ten days and (2) provide any evidence or argument "show[ing] that there was a justifiable excuse for failing to respond" to these Requests, the Committee's Requests are deemed admitted by Shah.
4. One of these Requests is an admission that Shah's "conduct constitutes ground justifying the Board's taking disciplinary action against [his] Certificate.” As a result, Shah is deemed to have admitted that disciplinary action from the Board against him is justified.

5. The preponderance of the evidence presented by the parties shows that Shah intentionally withdrew $7,000 from the PAC’s account without authorization.
6. The preponderance of evidence also shows that Shah intentionally decided not to return the PAC’s money immediately, despite his concession that the money belonged to the PAC, the PAC’s demands that he return it, and his own promises to do so.
7. Under Minn. Stat. § 326A.08, subds. 5(a)(2) and (10):

The [B]oard may, by order, deny, refuse to renew, suspend, temporarily suspend, or revoke the application, or practice privileges, registration or certificate of a person or firm; censure or reprimand the person or firm; prohibit the person or firm from preparing tax returns or reporting on financial statements; [or] limit the scope of practice of any licensee...if the [B]oard finds that the order is in the public interest and that, based on a preponderance of the evidence presented, the person or firm:

(2) has engaged in conduct or acts that are fraudulent, deceptive, or dishonest whether or not the conduct or acts relate to performing or offering to perform professional services, providing that the fraudulent, deceptive, or dishonest conduct or acts reflect adversely on the person’s or firms’ ability or fitness to provide professional services; [or]

(10) has engaged in any conduct reflecting adversely upon the person’s or firm’s fitness to perform services while a licensee...

8. Clauses (2) and (10) of the above statute are further defined in Minnesota Rule 1105.5600(D), which states, in pertinent part, that “conduct reflecting adversely upon the licensee’s fitness to perform services, within the meaning of Minnesota Statutes, section 326A.08, subdivision 5, paragraph (a), clauses (2) and (10), includes,” inter alia, “fiscal dishonesty of any kind...”
9. As a result, in order to demonstrate that discipline is warranted in this proceeding, the Committee must show that Shah engaged in “fiscal dishonesty of any kind.”
10. The Committee bears the burden of making that showing by a preponderance of the evidence.
11. The Committee established, by a preponderance of the evidence, that Shah withdrew $7,000 from a PAC account without authorization, that his withdrawal was intentional, and that it constituted “fiscal dishonesty” as that term is used in Minn. R. 1105.5600(D)(2).
12. The Committee established, by the preponderance of the evidence, that Shah’s decision to retain the $7,000 until December 2009 constituted a further instance of “fiscal dishonesty” as that term is used in Minn. R. 1105.5600(D)(2).
13. Because of the dishonesty he has engaged in, disciplinary action against Shah’s license is in the public interest. See Minn. Stat. § 326A.08, subd. 5(a)(2) and (10) and Minn. R. 1105.5600(D)(2).

14. For these reasons, even if Shah had responded to the Committee’s Requests for Admissions and was not deemed to have admitted that disciplinary action against him from the Board is warranted, disciplinary action against Shah is warranted based on the merits of the case.

The Board adopts and incorporates herein the Memorandum included within the Report. The Memorandum is on file in the Board office.

The Board’s Conclusions regarding discipline are based on the Findings, Conclusions, and Memorandum detailed and/or incorporated above. As previously noted, some of the facts that are relevant to the Board’s Conclusions were not available to the Committee prior to the May 3, 2011, hearing in this matter.

In light of (a) the severity of the multiple instances of fiscal dishonesty that have been proved by a preponderance of the evidence in this matter, (b) the lack of credibility that Respondent’s explanations of the withdrawals suffer from, and (c) the unprofessional and irresponsible nature of Respondent’s excuses for failing to return the PAC’s money immediately after it was demanded, the disciplinary action detailed in the Order is in the public interest.

Any Conclusions of Law more properly termed a Findings of Facts is adopted as such.

The purpose of any administrative agency proceeding concerning the revocation or suspension of a license or certificate is not to punish the individual; "[T]he purpose is to protect the public from dishonest, immoral, disreputable or incompetent practitioners. Board Member Achievements

Kate Mooney, Ph.D., CPA, along with Kerry Marrer, MBA, CPA, are recipients of a $4,000 NASBA Accounting Education Research Grant. This grant will be used to investigate what coursework students are using to fulfill the requirement of 150 hours of education for licensure in many states.

Legislators and regulators are reluctant to require a Master's degree; however, there is speculation that without content specification for education requirements, students may choose easy, irrelevant coursework to complete the 150 hour requirement. This project will provide information on actual student coursework taken to meet the 150 hour requirement. Fact-based information will help regulators to decide if more content specification is necessary. Ms. Mooney has served on the Minnesota Board since 2006 and is currently serving as Vice Chair.

Philip W. Gleason, CPA is the recipient of the NASBA Distinguished Service Award. This award recognizes individuals who have demonstrated unswerving commitment and dedication to enhancing the mission of NASBA.

Mr. Gleason is currently the sole shareholder of Philip W. Gleason, Ltd., a CPA Firm based in Bloomington, MN. He has held membership in both the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants and the Minnesota Society of CPAs since 1968. Additionally, Mr. Gleason served 12 years on the Minnesota Board of Accountancy, two years as Board Chair.

Mr. Gleason's involvement with NASBA began in 1992, where he served as a Delegate until 2004. He is a former member of the NASBA Board of Directors and Past Chair of the Relations with Member Boards and CPE Advisory Committees. He has served on many committees and, of particular note, participated in the Task Force that drafted the Statement on Standards for CPE, and on the Examination Review Board during the time the Uniform CPA Examination transitioned from a paper and pencil format to a computer-based format. Mr. Gleason served on the Minnesota Board from 1992-2004.

CPA Exam Changes

*Reprinted, in part, from MNCPA "Footnote"
Feb/Mar 2011*

On January 1, 2011, significant changes were made to the content, format and process of the CPA examination. The examination is still organized in four parts; however, specific topics and their relative weightings within each section have changed.

The Auditing & Attestation (AUD) portion focuses on the candidate's understanding of generally accepted auditing standards and procedures and the ability to apply them in performing auditing and attestation engagements. The subject areas now include: engagement acceptance and understanding the assignment; understanding the entity and its environment; performing audit procedures and evaluating evidence; evaluating audit findings, communications and reporting; accounting and review service engagements; and professional responsibilities.

The Business Environment & Concepts (BEC) section tests the candidate's knowledge of the general concepts underlying the business reasons for accounting implications of various transactions, and the skills needed to apply that knowledge in performing other functions normally performed by CPAs. Subject areas include: corporate governance; economic concepts and analysis; financial management; information systems and communications; strategic planning; and operations management.

The Financial Accounting & Reporting (FAR) portion has the most significant content changes related to International Standards. These questions will be gradually integrated over the next few years. Questions on U.S. Standards will continue to be the major focus of the examination. Subject areas include: conceptual framework, standards, standard setting and presentation of financial statements; financial statement accounts: recognition, measurement, valuation, calculation, presentation and disclosures; specific transactions, events and disclosures; governmental accounting and reporting; and not-for-profit accounting and reporting.

The Regulation (REG) section tests candidates' knowledge of federal taxation, ethics, professional and legal responsibilities, business law and the skills needed to apply that knowledge. Subject areas include: ethics, professional and legal responsibilities; business law; federal tax process, procedures accounting and planning; federal taxation of property transactions; federal taxation of individuals; and federal taxation of entities.

Changes to the exam format were also made, including: the removal of essay questions from the AUD, FAR and REG sections; the reduction from two long-form case studies to six or seven shorter task-based simulations; the incorporation of three written communications tasks in the BEC section to replace some of the multiple choice questions; and the modification of the time allocation of the AUD and BEC sections.

Finally, process changes have been made, including: a new online calculator for the CPA Examination; a new release of authoritative literature, with FASB Accounting Standards Codification, now available to prepare candidates for the examination; and a new candidate performance report providing information about the strengths and weaknesses of their examination performance.

Additional information regarding the CPA exam changes can be found at www.aicpa.org/BecomeACPA/CPAExam.

NASBA Launches CPAverify.org

Free National Database Offers the Public Single-Source Access to U.S. CPA Licensee Data

On October 24, 2011, the National Association of State Boards of Accountancy (NASBA) announced the launch of CPAverify.org - a website featuring a central database of state licensee information about Certified Public Accountants (CPAs) practicing across the nation. Populated by official state regulatory data received from State Boards of Accountancy, the website is free and open to the public. In its initial launch, the CPAverify.org website will include licensee data for 22 states with additional states being added regularly until all 55 U.S. CPA licensing jurisdictions are included. Minnesota will participate beginning in February 2012.

A national database of this kind has been in high demand for some time now as corporations, individuals, CPA firms and organizations such as the IRS and PCAOB have expressed a need for up-to-date access to CPA records across multiple jurisdictions. To address this growing need in the marketplace, CPAverify was designed as an outward-facing version of an internal CPA database that has been in operation by NASBA for several years and only available for use by authorized state board personnel.

Whether sourcing talent to fill open positions or searching for the ideal CPA to assist with an income tax return, CPAverify.org will provide individuals and organizations alike a convenient and credible way to research whether a CPA is officially licensed in a particular state without having to search each state board website individually. The tool also goes one step further by providing general license history for CPAs. To learn more about CPAverify.org or to conduct your own search, visit www.CPAverify.org.
